

KENTUCKY'S LEGISLATURE.

Its Last Day Peaceful and No Further Trouble Feared.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 13.—All apprehension of further trouble disappeared when the two houses met at the usual hour without molestation from the state troops. It is probable now that a night session will be held, which will be the last, after which it will adjourn sine die.

Before the sessions met this morning there was a strong inclination shown by members of both houses to expedite matters as much as possible and secure final adjournment. Beyond the Senator Triplett resolution appropriating $100,000 for a reorganization of the state militia under Governor Beckham, there is little legislation of importance pending and Democratic members of the house expressed confidence of passing this without trouble.

Apparently no apprehension of further trouble, for the present at least, exists among members of either party. Republican Lieutenant Governor John Marshall held consultations during the morning with Democratic Adjutant General Castleman and several members of the legislature discussing the general situation.

Speculation as to Governor Taylor's future action still continues. Governor Taylor himself refused all interviews on the subject today, but prominent Republicans, who have talked with him on the subject, assert emphatically that Governor Taylor will remain in Frankfort and continue his fight for what he considers the right until the question of the governorship is finally passed upon.

SUIT FOR GOVERNORSHIP.

Republicans Will File an Amended Answer Thursday Morning.

LOUISVILLE, March 13.—Former Governor Bradley, Judge Yost and other Republican attorneys are preparing an amended answer to the suit brought by J. C. W. Beckham to secure possession of the office of governor. After a final conference of the attorneys Wednesday night, the answer will be filed with Judge Field Thursday morning.

The five prisoners, Secretary of State Powers, Captain Davis, Holland Whitaker, W. H. Colston and M. L. Hazlitt, accused of being accessories to the assassination of William Goebel, are still confined in jail here. It is expected habeas corpus proceedings in their behalf will be begun in a few days.

Tennessee Republicans.

NASHVILLE, March 13.—At a meeting today of the Republican state executive committee it was decided to hold the state convention at Nashville, April 19. A candidate for governor, three candidates for railroad commissioner and candidates for electors from the state at large will be nominated and delegates to the national convention selected.

Tennessee Republicans.

DETROIT, March 13.—Politics were practically forgotten in the village elections held throughout Michigan yesterday and where big votes polled local and personal issues alone were responsible. The temperance question was the absorbing one in many places, and where the line was strictly drawn, the "wet" was a rifle the better of it.

William R. Edmund Protests.

DUBLIN, March 13.—William Edmund, member of parliament, has written to the clerk of the corporation protesting against the proposed address of welcome to Queen Victoria and expressing his intention to resign his seat in the council if the address is presented.

No Epidemic in Asheville.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., March 13.—The report that there is an epidemic of smallpox in the vicinity of this city is incorrect. There were a few cases of the disease, but all the patients have recovered and there is not a single case within or outside the corporate limits.

Changes in Office.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 14.—Judge A. Stratton of Troy, who was recently appointed census supervisor for the Third Alabama district, has resigned his position as United States commissioner, and Circuit Judge Bruce has appointed in his stead W. C. Stark, who has been a deputy United States marshal. Marshal Bryan has appointed Andrew Collier to succeed Stark as deputy marshal.

SHREWD DIPLOMATIC MOVE.

Kruger and Steyn Force Salisbury to Show His Hand.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The Journal and Advertiser says: Presidents Kruger and Steyn have apparently made a shrewd diplomatic move, for it cannot be supposed that they expected Lord Salisbury to consent to peace on any such terms as they proposed.

They have, however, obtained from the British premier a tangible statement of the intention of England, and her determination to take from the two republics their independence.

This gives them something on which they may appeal to the powers, asking if the latter will stand by and see them crushed and turned into integral parts of the British empire.

The strengthening of England's fleet in Chinese waters is a part of her answer to the peace proposition of the Boer republics. Lord Salisbury realizes that England's enemies have never had so good an excuse for making trouble for her as they have now. Should the Boer presidents appeal to the powers against the premier's ultimatum and ask them to interfere to prevent the political annihilation of the republics the opportunity of Russia and France would have come.

These powers would, very likely, notify England they would not consent to the taking away of the Boers' independence. And that would mean war. For England would allow no such interference in what she regards as her private affairs.

Hogansville's New Postmistress.

HOGANSVILLE, Ga., March 13.—At last the postoffice at Hogansville has changed hands. Miss Mary Lou Jones has been sworn in as postmistress and taken charge of the office. Miss Jones is a daughter of Major J. F. Jones of this place, and our people are perfectly satisfied with her appointment. Loftin, the retiring postmaster, has a position in Washington, D. C.

N.W. Tax Collector.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 13.—The governor has appointed Mr. A. B. Brooks of Luverne to be tax collector of Crenshaw county to succeed Mr. H. Y. Brooke, who recently resigned to accept a position in the government printing office at Washington.

A man named E. Presson, of Presonville, Kans., wrote a letter the other day, saying the opinion of everybody in his town who has used Foley's Honey and Tar is, that it is the very best medicine for la grippe, colds, cough, etc. W. A. D'Alemberte.

Rules for Lent.

All the faithful who have completed their twenty-first year and who have not begun their sixtieth year, and who are not exempted from the obligation of fasting by sickness, hard work or other well known reasons, are obliged to fast on all the days of Lent, except Sundays.

On those days but one full meal is allowed, which should not be taken before noon.

Custom allows a cup of coffee, tea or thin chocolate, and a small piece of bread or a cracker, to be taken in the morning; and in the evening, a collation, not exceeding the fourth part of an ordinary meal, is allowed. At this collation, butter, cheese, milk, eggs and all kinds of fruit, fish and vegetables are allowed. When the principal meal cannot without grave inconvenience be taken at noon, it is permissible to take the collation in the morning and the dinner in the evening.

Abstinence from the use of flesh is enjoined on all the Wednesdays and Fridays of Lent and on the Saturday of Ember Week and on Holy Saturday.

The use of lard is allowed in cooking.

Fish and flesh are not allowed at the same meal, even on Sundays. Eggs, cheese, milk and butter may be used every day, but abstinence from all of these is recommended on Good Friday.

Persons exempted from the obligation of fasting are not bound by the restriction of using meat but once a day on the days in which the use of meat is permitted by dispensation.

Children over seven years of age are bound by the law of abstinence, unless excused by sickness or other causes. The paschal time, in which all Catholics who have come to the years of discretion are bound to receive holy communion worthily, extends from the first Sunday of Easter till Trinity Sunday, inclusive. Children over seven years of age are bound by the precept of annual confession. Pastors and parents should see that the children comply with this duty.

The holy season of Lent is a time of prayer, of sorrow for sin, of seclusion from the world and its amusements, and of generous almsgiving. By a special indulgent granted to the bishops of the United States for ten years, dating from March 15, 1895, working people, who cannot easily observe the common law of the church, are dispensed from the obligation of abstinence on all days of the year except Fridays, Ash Wednesday, Holy Week and Christmas Eve. This dispensation does not exempt from the additional obligation of fasting, where such exists, nor does it authorize the use of fish and flesh at the same meal. It includes, however, not only the individual workmen in whose favor it is granted, but all the members of their families as well. In return it is expected that those who avail themselves of this indulgent will endeavor to enter into the spirit of the holy season of Lent by voluntary acts of mortification, penance and almsgiving. A most praiseworthy custom is that of abstaining during Lent from stimulants, in honor of the sacred thirst of our divine Savior.

Those who entertain any reasonable doubt about their obligation to fast or abstain, ought to apply to their pastor or confessor for advice.

At the Sign of the Inn.

I like a tavern old and gray
When comes a rainy day.
When wind and rain in anger beat
On dripping roof and street.
Then give me, as my heart's desire,
A jolly landlord and a fire.

What care I, then, for wind and wrack,
Where Fieschell called for sack
Or Mistress quickly, dead long since,
Welcomed his grace the prince;
Where Ploekel's party, weather bound,
Quaffed healths the roaring round?

Oh, for a tavern old and gray!
(I hate the rainy day.)
Oh, for a landlord fat and fine,
Where Fieschell called for wine.
Stories of love and battles dire
And song before a tavern fire!

Then let the winds and icy rains
Battle the roaking pans!
The landlord's story in mine ear;
The minstrel's song I hear.
Let the rains beat "Blow, wind; come, wrack!"
Strike, a cup of sack-of sack!

Skim Milk For Hogs.

Skim milk can be too highly indorsed as a food for swine, says Live Stock. Fed in connection with corn, it proves a very economical and effective ration. But it should not be fed to excess. Two or three pounds of skim milk to one of meal is the best proportion. The milk being deficient in fat and the corn in protein, their combination proves most satisfactory.
